

 Podcast Episode Title:
“Gen AI: The New Creative Partner or the End of Originality?”

 Episode Description:

In this episode, we explore the double-edged sword of Generative AI in the world of creativity, innovation, and content creation. Is Gen AI empowering a new generation of artists, writers, and developers — or is it slowly eroding the value of human originality?

Join us as we unpack:

- How Gen AI is revolutionizing industries from design to software engineering.
- The ethics of AI-generated art, writing, and music.
- Real-world use cases where Gen AI is augmenting (or replacing) human jobs.
- The line between inspiration and imitation.
- What the future looks like for human creativity in the age of machines.
